That "played out"—"done up" feeling makes life miserable for every sufferer from kidney ills, backaches, headaches and urinary troubles, painful and annoying.

Doan's Kidney Pills

bring new life and activity, remove the pain and cure the cause, from common backache to dangerous diabetes.

Mr. L. T. Wilson, salesman on Market street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I contracted a very bad cold which affected me in the lungs and in the upper part of the chest, causing distressing lameness, some urinary difficulty and I was quite stiffened up. As I had read considerable about Doan's Kidney Pills I went to Philbrick's pharmacy and got a box. They went to the spot at once, and I did not use but part of the box before I was quite over my trouble. I gave the balance of my box to a friend, and from their effects on others I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. You can refer to me."

CHAPTER XX.

As the skiff slipped out from the confusion of the town edge the moon, lifted like a paper sickle, silvered all the misty distance. A mile away across the broad expanse Anne saw the twinkling lights of Gloucester and to her left the campfires under the river bank slipping slowly back. But the current was steady and their progress necessarily slow. Ahead loomed the massive star shaped Fusilier's redoubt, with the British frigate Guadalupe moored some way outside, and, passing, she clutched her hands till the nails struck purple crescents in her palms in a dumb terror of pursuit or alarm.

They were scarce come opposite this when a shot, a shout and a sound of oars tumbled upon their ears clearly over the water behind them.

"They have found it out!" she cried. "Row hard! Oh, would that I could help you!"

"I must tell you the truth. I have procured your escape by a trick. 'Twas not a true release which I brought to the barracks. 'Twas false. They are like to discover it at any moment and pursue us."

He stopped rowing. "You did that for me? You spoke falsely when you said you were in terrible danger?"

"Row," she pleaded, leaning forward from the stern. "Stop not an instant. I have fooled Cornwallis. Think you he will forget that? Or, if they take us, that I shall go scot free? Would you see me in a cell?"

"I will not land there. You must pass the American lines. You must take me home to Gladden Hall."

"But, row!"

"I beg you to allow us to land," he urged. "The regiment of the Gatinas lies behind that bluff. They will not dare to pursue into the French trenches."

"Can you be afraid?"

"Oh, what it cost her heart to say that!"

Armand bent to the oars and increased his speed. Neither spoke. She was suffering a like apprehension now of arousing the American pickets on the shore. At any other time, doubtless, there would have been challenges, but on this night, the first of many weeks, the Continentals rested and made merry, waiting the signing of the articles of surrender. The stiff passed the danger point, and for a while there was no sound save the slap of thin waves like children's hands against the stem and the muffled din of the pursuit, which drew on with dogged persistence.

"They will not fire," she said at length in a low voice, "for fear of arousing the Americans. They have a ship's boat full, but they row crooked and uneven. Yet they come on fast—fast. Tell me, could we get back to the Continental works?"

"'Tis impossible now. They are between us and them. Gladden Hall is the nearest refuge."

"Are you certain?"

"Yes, mademoiselle."

"Listen," she confessed then. "I have deceived you. I made you take me past the Continental line because—because you yourself cannot go there. You must not go there. 'Tis not only the British who would seize you now. Ah, do you not understand? You have been denounced. 'Tis known that you are the same who, they think, would have misled the congress."

"Informed against?" he said.

"Again?"

"Oh, what a ghastly thing for you to say to me! 'Twas Jarrat—Jarrat. Row ashore and fly."

"Where?"

"Anywhere, anywhere," she cried wildly, "only so it be to safety! Haste! They gain on us!"

"If we land they are certain to take us. You cannot go afoot as fast as they."

"I shall not go. You shall leave me there. Row! Row!"

"And why should you care for my life?"

"Ah, will you stay when my heart is breaking? There is no time to talk now. What is anything they may do beside your life? I beseech you—I command you to run in. I never intended you to take me farther."

"You would be safe if we could reach Gladden Hall," he said. Then he stood up and threw off his coat.

Her tears came at this. "There is no one at the hall to protect! They will not let a slave to beat them back. Not a weapon. Tarleton sacked it. Ah, you do not believe me because I deceived you before! But this is the truth—I swear it is the truth!"

He made no answer, but set the boat's bow straight up the stream and rowed as she had never seen a man row before. She felt the timbers shiver and creak, heard the deep intake of his breath and saw the splendid play of the arm muscles beneath his shirt sleeve. Then, entering, ever more insistent, came the creak of the pursuing craft.

The moonlight fell whitely on the shore they skirted. Two miles—three miles—past the shallows of King's creek and Corbin's point. Every tongue of land, every wedge of forest, how well she knew them! But how slowly they fell behind! There was no longer danger of arousing the Continental pickets, and the pursuers' voices came clearly, gibing at the error of their prisoner which had carried him past the line of safety and made his taking certain. Once Anne heard the officer who led gave sharp command to put down a gun.

A scant 200 yards was all there was between the two boats when Armand sprang upon the wharf of Gladden Hall. "Leave me," she begged faintly, "and save yourself! You have yet time."

"Give me your hand!" he commanded, peremptorily. He took it and led her, running, up the sloping lawn.

Its unmeted formlessness was softened by the kindly moonlight, and not until they reached the front of the house did its gray desolation become all at once apparent. The panes in the windows were broken, the white pillars battered, the front door swinging, the yard unsightly with rubbish.

"'Tis deserted!" Despair was in his tone.

"I told you that."

"Are there no horses?"

"The barns are burned. Leave me, leave me and go!"

He hurried her to the front door, and they entered, hearing as they did so the larger boat bump the planking. Without a word he shot home the bolts in the great door and drew her into the dining room, now overscattered with broken crockery. He locked both doors of the room, smashed the sashes of the porch windows with a chair, brought together the heavy outer blinds and slid the bars. As he fastened the second of the windows in the opposite side, he sprang to secure the other before the soldiers reached the back of the house.

This shut out the last of the moonlight, and the room became a black darkness. Outside was a deadened clamor, curses and shouts to fetch ship's lanterns and search the empty quarters for an ax. Anne could hear Armand's convulsive breathing.

She had groped her way to the sideboard and opened its candle drawer. A tiny half inch and rewarded her. Flint and steel still hung in their accustomed place. She struck them and lighted the wick with trembling hands.

As she did so a heavy body came hurtling against the other side of the house.

Let there be a warm mingling of interests between yourself and those who are nearest. How often there is so little in common between a father and his children, or between members of the same family; each one living his life under the same roof and yet knowing little of the other—brothers and sisters and yet comparative strangers. Much is lost in this way—at least much would be gained if there were a merging of confidences.

Then reflect that life, like every other blessing, derives its value from its use alone. A life in which nothing happens is not artistic, and cannot be made so. One of the wisest and best known men of this generation says that if a man has abilities and will not use them he is a scoundrel and ought to be punished.

Put heart into your work and you will get joy out of it. Let the money consideration be secondary. The first thing is to be true to labor with a composed inviolable energy, till it becomes a labor of love and gladness.

Live so that to-morrow and all the coming to-morrows will be brightened by the memory of to-day. You may take it for granted that if by kindness and sympathy and the clean, conscientious fulfillment of your task you diffuse sunshine into other hearts, you will not be able to keep it out of your own.

Neatness in Morning Dress.

Mrs. Brown found Mrs. Johnson in a hammock on the veranda shelling peas and looking just as Mrs. Brown knew she would, delightfully neat and cool.

"So you want to know how I always manage to look neat in the morning," said Mrs. Johnson. "First and above all, I have always regarded housekeeping as a profession and I think no woman can achieve good results or feel any satisfaction in their daily round of duties when she is slovenish in dress."

"We women need whole and clean attire in our work as much as the carpenter needs a hammer and saw in his. My morning outfit consists of two checked gingham dresses made shirtwaist and skirt, and this blue and white percale made ditto. Some object to the shirtwaist and skirt for morning wear, saying they are always pulling apart in the back. I always sew a button on my shirtwaists at the waist line and work a buttonhole in each end of the skirt belt, and there you are! The waist can't pull up and the skirt cannot sag; the adjustment of a belt is but a second's work."

"Besides the dresses I have three white lawn ties, four large gingham aprons and two sets of over sleeves with elastic run in the top and bottom. These latter I always wear when cooking and washing dishes. Besides these I have a long sleeve apron which I find indispensable when I have on a particularly good dress, as I do not wish to change it before preparing supper. I think it is almost a crime to wear ragged or soiled clothing. It is very inexcusable also, I think, for one to go about in the morning with uncombed hair or

"My method may not be the best, but I have found it a very satisfactory one. When I have morning callers I don't find it necessary to keep them waiting at the door while I arrange my hair or change my dress. If I have an errand down street I am always ready with the exception, perhaps, of removing a pair of over-sleeves."

"I tried to keep my promise. You remember when they lashed the bondwoman? She woke with a crazed brain, and the packet—'the packet'—was gone. All those months I searched and found it at last by chance. I did not get to Philadelphia with it till that morning."

"There was no further answer, and she slipped on her knees, feeling a yearning that was like a poignant sickness."

Physicians recommend it, children like it. MONEY REFUNDED if it fails when used as directed. Prepared by the NORWAY MEDICINE CO., Norway, Me.

To be Liked, be Charitable.

To be liked, you must first of all, be liberal-minded and charitable. Learn quickly and learn thoroughly that the finikin and the hypercritical individual, who is forever discouraging about his or her lofty ideals, and who is ready to pick fault, fallible human nature to pieces, is never trusted and never loved.

Don't expect to find perfect friends. You are not perfect yourself by any manner of means. Strive to acquire an open, approachable manner. It is more than highly commendable; it is positively essential to look friendly and to abstain from sharp criticism.

Love your friends for their virtues and be very ready to see and admit their good part. Concerning their faults, preserve a large and gorgeous silence, and do not fall a victim of the common and fatal practice of talking people over. Moreover, please consider that these qualities are not only consistent with loyalty, but are prime requisites to the preservation of your reputation for good breeding.

Not only is it unkind, but distinctly vulgar, to discuss the faults and failings of your friends, and be sure that sooner or later they will discover the existence of this infidelity, and naturally and justly feel the most unforgiving resentment and contempt for your cheap diversion.

How to Be Happy.

If you try to overtake happiness it is likely to give you the dust and keep you in the chase. The better way is to let it overtake you. This it will do if you provide the conditions.

Be just, be true, be kind. The charm of existence comes from relating ourselves beautifully and faithfully and devotedly to our work, to our friends, to our surroundings, to our moments.

Andover's Hundred Years.

The centennial of Andover, one of Oxford county's beautiful home towns, met with appropriate observance this week. On Sunday, Aug. 7, a special service was held, a centennial sermon of much ability and of practical value was preached in the Congregational church by Rev. W. R. Jackson of Providence, R. I., for some years a summer resident of Andover. The church was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and over the chancel were the figures 1804-1904.

Wednesday was the great day for the town. Five hundred special invitations to former residents and their children were sent out and informal invitations included citizens of neighboring towns. A parade led by Malcolm Gregg as marshal and the Andover band started at 9 o'clock and contained Grand Army men, Lane Mountain Grange, P. of H., Cabot Lodge, K. of P. and Ellis Glen Pythian Brotherhood, and other organizations. Floats decorated by the Knights of Pythias illustrating a degree, by the Grange showing ancient and modern farming materials and several business houses made a good display. A specially attractive float was the Goddess of Liberty, Florence Talbot and thirteen other young ladies representing the original states.

Down Main street to the Universalist church around the square and to the common the parade marched. At the latter place exercises were held of music and addresses.

The historical address was written by Henry V. Poor, the oldest resident of Andover and 82 years of age. An original poem by Mrs. Helen Hoffman of Dover, Cal.

A dinner of the fine quality that Andover's ladies' prepare, made up of beans and meats, with fine pastry was enjoyed by all the visitors. In the evening a display of rockets and candles was set off.

Rev. T. E. Fottorson of New York City, who is preaching four Sundays for the Universalist society here, will give an illustrated lecture on the St. Louis Exposition entitled "The Ivory City" on Saturday, evening, Aug. 13. The proceeds aside from expenses go to the local society. Those who have heard Mr. Fottorson are assured of a treat and it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

The Robinson Family gave a concert here last Saturday evening. The family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and three young ladies, aged 9, 12, 14 years, and Cora Emery, pianist. The youngest daughter plays the piano, the second one the cornet and the oldest the violin. Mr. Robinson, the clarinet. All of them know how to make good music both vocal and instrumental. Mrs. Robinson is a cousin to George and A. L. Tubbs and the family spent Sunday with A. L. Tubbs. Mr. Robinson has the management of a store in Conway, N. H. This is his month's vacation and all being of musical turn they enjoy spending their vacation going around giving concerts.

FRYEBOURGH CENTER.

Blueberries on Mt. Pleasant.

Quantities of blueberries are picked on Pleasant mountain in Denmark by Fryebourgh parties.

WEST PORTER.

Lost in the Woods.

Ernest and Hettie Varney went on Sawyer mountain blueberrying and on their return missed their way and stayed in the woods all night without a thing to eat except their berries. They traveled how far no one knows and it was a showery night and raining hard by spells so they were as wet as could be.

They came out near George Russell's about a mile from Huntress bridge, then they had four miles or more to walk to reach their home. They got home about nine the next morning, carrying about ten quarts of berries each.

Mrs. Olive French is quite sick at this writing.

Mrs. Samuel French is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Towle.

Quite a number went to Baldwin, Sunday, to the Advent campmeeting.

Lewis Thompson is at work on his new house, has the main part all up and boarded.

Mrs. A. F. Mason is quite feeble yet, only able to sit a little more than an hour in a day.

Rev. Wm. H. Cotton of Waterboro and Rev. James Perry of Cornish were at the Centre schoolhouse, Sunday evening.

Wm. T. Philbrick returned to his home, Sunday, from Eaton and Conway, where he has been visiting for the last six weeks.

Haying is still in progress. High ground hay is not nearly all cut yet, but the dry weather has whitened it out quite badly.

Sunday seems to be the day for berry picking. I think that the law ought to be enforced and not have our Sabbath broken. We have six days allotted us for work, now let us remember the Sabbath and keep it.

NORTH LOVELL.

Leaves for Florida.

Mrs. N. H. Sawyer of West Stoneham and Mrs. Georgia Berryman and little daughter of Massachusetts visited at Perley McKee's one day last week.

Hand News to Correspondents.

I have been much interested in the replies to "Why do you like the ADVERTISER?" It seems that local news is the drawing card. Well, local news comes from the local correspondents. They are willing and ready to report all news that may come to them, and as every neighborhood and almost every family have some one away who is interested in what is going on among them, it seems to me that the least they can do is to hand the local correspondent (who is usually well known) items of interest and thus help along the local paper of which we are all proud, as well as keeping about our own people and doing as the old homes. In the several weeks that send news to the ADVERTISER there are a great many summer boarders and if those who care for them would send in lists of names every week or two it would be a means of showing what is being done in this corner of the State, as well as indirectly advertising their business, which would be getting what a great many of our Yankee people want—something for almost nothing, or at least very cheap. Items of interest that may be left in Box 13, Waterford P. O., will receive prompt attention.

Mrs. Holmes with her son of Lewiston is visiting her brother, Henry Wentworth.

Annie F. Wilson, the authoress, who is spending the summer with her mother, is being visited by her friend, Miss Brown of Boston.

Wm. Bolton of South Paris has just finished a fine job of grading and turning around Mrs. Doten's house. More extensive work will be done later in the season.

We have to thank our old friend, Major Stevens, for a nice mess of white perch taken by him from Long lake. The major knows how to catch fish and what to do with them afterward.

Dr. Gordon and family of Brooklyn, N. Y., are at the Lake House. The doctor is an expert with the rod and line and we shall expect to hear of big fish being taken. He has been recently at Four Ponds, where we presume he had his usual good luck.

NORTHWEST BETHEL.

Severe Hail Storm.

A smart hail storm of but a few minutes duration visited us Monday forenoon. It thundered and lightened a good deal. The hail stones were of very uniform shape and size about as large as the old fashioned bird's egg bean.

Mrs. Leonard Sumner has returned home.

D. W. Mills, wife and son Francis was at this place the 7th.

Mrs. E. S. Skillings is spending the summer with her parents.

Mrs. R. L. Bennett was very sick last week with cholera morbus.

E. S. Mason is at Mason doing carpenter work for Mr. Blanchard.

Mrs. R. G. Stearns has been visiting with her relatives in Albany for some days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Chapman are enjoying their vacation by keeping house at the upper farm.

Mr. Yates, a missionary, has been spending some days as the guest of Rob Bennett and family.

H. Upton is harvesting such an abundant crop of hay as to necessitate building a new shed to put part of it in.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jacobus of Garden City, N. Y., and daughter Katherine are having their annual outing at "The Homestead."

GREENWOOD.

Trip to the Ice Caves.

A party of twenty-four consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Swift, Harold Swift, Mattie Tubbs, Clarence Richardson, Vivian Swift, Willie Yates, Iva Ring, Alvin Cole and wife, Grover Yates, Alma Hayes, Frank Hayes, Mildred Waterhouse, Irving Penley, Leona Penley, Susie Walker, Ernest Herriock and wife, Stella Cole, wife and baby, Leona Penley and Evie Penley visited the Ice Caves last Sunday. A picnic dinner was eaten in the large cave called "The Kitchen." In one cave quite a quantity of ice was found. A good time was enjoyed by all.

Arthur Noyes and family were at Poland last week visiting Mrs. Noyes' father, Leonard Herriock.

Mrs. William Cookson and son Warren of West Paris spent Thursday and Friday at her brother's, Ernest Herriock's.

Sadie Davis and nephew, Ralph Coombs, visited a few days the past week at Austin Hayes' and Perl Whitman's.

NORWAY LAKE.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fride were at Wilber Place, Sunday.

Grace Flood is with her father, Ralph Flood on Frost's Hill.

Grace Thibodeau is visiting her aunts at the Lake this week.

Virgil and Will Flood went to Portland on the excursion July 31.

George Frost has moved from the village into the upper rent of E. F. Smith's house.

Won Easily From Hebron.

Radcliffe 10, Hebron 2.

Thursday the Radcliffe and Hebron ball teams met for a game at the fair ground, and although the game was scheduled to begin at 3.30, it was nearly an hour later before the game was called, the delay being caused by the non-appearance of Vendette and Lowell of the Radcliffe team. Fletcher was substituted for Vendette as catcher, and Shaw came in from the field to Lowell's position at short, Gammon going to center. The small crowd took the delay good-naturally.

The game was uninteresting and devoid of any special features, the home team contributing most of the hits, and the visitors the errors. Frank Palmer umpired the first two innings, but a decision at the plate caused a kick from Hebron, and Noyes finished the game. Bonny's playing at first and at the bat was of the game-winning order, and Fletcher caught a good game, notwithstanding the fact that he had never caught Sparks before. Cole pitched the last two innings for the Radcliffe team, Lowell going to third. Following is the score:

Harrison 8, Radcliffe 7.

In a game characterized by good hitting, sensational fielding and glaring errors, but with all a good game to watch, the Harrison team defeated the Radcliffe team 8 to 7, 11 innings on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon.

The error column tells the story of Radcliffe's defeat, as they out-batted their opponents nearly two to one. The score was tied several times, and it was nobody's game until the last man was out in the 11th. Lowell's batting for the Radcliffe was a feature; he also contributed two errors, both in the 5th inning, and these with Bonny's error and hits by Coburn and Wilson gave Harrison a lead which the Radcliffe could hardly overcome. In the sixth Lowell's two-bagger and Gammon's single gave Radcliffe one run, and tied the score. It was goose eggs for both teams for the next three innings. In Harrison's half of the tenth they scored two runs, and it looked bad for the home team, but the last half Shaw was sent to bat for Wheeler, and cracked out a nice single, and an error and a hit by Lowell tied the score. Cole's low throw to first in the 11th was mainly responsible for Harrison's run, and the game was over as the home team failed to get a run in their half of the 11th.

Following is the score:

Anniversary Weddings.

At the end of the first year comes the cotton wedding. At two years comes the paper. At three the leather. At the close of five comes the wooden. At the seventh anniversary the friends assemble at the woolen. At ten comes the tin. At twelve years the fine linen. At twenty-five the married couple that have been true to their vows for a quarter of a century are rewarded with silver gifts. From this period forward the tokens of esteem become rapidly more valuable. When the thirtieth anniversary is come they are presented with pearls. At the fortieth come rubies. At the fiftieth occurs the golden wedding.

Beyond this time the aged couple are allowed to enjoy their many gifts in peace. If, however, by any possibility they should reach their seventy-fifth anniversary, they are presented with the rarest gifts to be obtained at the celebration of their diamond wedding.

The Shower.

The huge dark clouds piled up and up like mountains at their play; And dimly across the sky They rolled and billowed far and high, All on a summer's day.

I never stopped to question why, But with my skirts about as high, I scuttled off for home right spy,— A shower was on the way.

Chaplin—Young.

A very pretty home wedding scene took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Willis B. Chaplin, North Gorham, Thursday evening, Aug. 4, when their daughter L. Adelaide was united in marriage to William F. Young of Norway. At eight o'clock the bridal couple, preceded by little Doris Manchester, who acted as ring bearer, marched in to the music of the wedding march played by Audrey Robinson of Conway, N. H. A ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Harding of Brewer.

After the ceremony, suitable refreshments were provided and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Many beautiful presents were received and best wishes are extended to the happy couple by a large number of friends.

Friday afternoon, while switching in the Norway yard, preparatory to connecting with the east bound express, the Norway branch engine ran one tender truck off the track. Passengers were taken to South Paris by team.

"I read what Waters said in last week's paper about 'chipping in' to help the editor and I thought I might as well do something so here is what the folks have sent to you." We looked up and it was Charles W. Ryerson of a paper bag, and under his arm was a paper bag. He deposited the bag on the desk and smilingly left the office. In that bag was a generous supply of apples—Bald and Roxbury Russets which grew last year. They were good ones too, also August Sweet, William's Favorite and Yellow Transparent of this season's crop. Who wouldn't be an editor and have such good friends who remember you with both the early and the late fruit? The apples were all right, the first we've had of this year's raising. Many thanks to the "folks" as well as to Mr. Ryerson.

The Experience of Four Berry Pickers.

It was on Saturday, the 30th of July, in the afternoon that four of us started out in high glee for the hills of Stoneham in search of blueberries. I won't tell their names but will give you their initials and perhaps with that you may be able to guess who they were. There was Willie Pitt, Robert Flint, Charles Libby and myself. Willie hired a pair of mules and a good stout wagon of J. M. O'Leary, and when we had got our dinners and baskets and pails together with grub enough to last four men for a week it was two o'clock in the afternoon, but we did not mind that as we were not intending to do any pick till morning. It was a fine drive of at least 25 miles, which we made without mishap, arriving at the old Carpenter house, so called, at 5.50, all right side up with care. Two of the crew went on a tour of inspection on Sugar Hill, so we need not lose any time in the morning, as we had made our plans to go on Spickett's hill, and the picking was not good there. The two Flints were chosen for this part of the work because they had been there before.

Libby and myself were left to get things in shape for the night and to get supper. Myself soon had a roaring fire in the fire-place, which consisted of three large rocks being placed near enough to put on an old stove oven door which we were lucky enough to find there, but when we came to look for water we wouldn't find a drop.

By this time the rest of the crew had returned, and by going half a mile they got water enough, and myself soon had hot tea and coffee, which made our otherwise cold supper taste quite well. Supper over, we smoked and then went to bed, or I should have said went to board, as boards that night with us were just the same.

Arising at three o'clock, our fire was soon going, coffee hot and we had breakfast. We looked after the horses and then taking our pails climbed the hill and at 5.30 we were ready to begin. The day was fine and at three o'clock I had picked enough, having twenty-five quarts.

The rest picked till four o'clock and they had picked some over one hundred quarts. We all thought it time to start for home so down the hill we went, fed the horses, ate supper, packed our berries, harnessed up and started.

Everything went well till we had got over the roughest of the road and were telling each other how nice everything was working, when down went the hind wheel. Well after waiting an hour and a half, we got an axle, out a pole, got it under the axle and started once more, we dragged that pole to North Lovell before got help. There a gentleman furnished us with a wheel which after well greased and watered was put on and we made another start, things looking lovely to us now, so our spirits rose accordingly and we began to sing, "Marching through Georgia."

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstrual periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured.

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—MISS JENNIE L. EDWARDS, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

We told stories, laughed over our misfortune and in fact were having a good time when, "yee, yaa, yee, yaa, bang, crash, thump."—Well I would like to draw the pictures of four men I know of and have it just as three of them looked at that moment, the fourth one I can only guess how he looked, but his feelings I might describe, but I won't.

Suffice it to say he did not feel very well. As luck would have it just at this moment we heard a team coming and the men were old friends who kindly helped us out of our trouble by loaning us a wagon to come home in. After the boys got back with the wagon it did not take us long to reload our berries, and once more get started for home where without further accident I arrived at 1.50 and the other boys at 3 o'clock. This was my first experience for over 20 years, but I shall try it again as soon as I can for I like it.

ONE OF THE FOUR.

The Going to Church Habit.

It is our most earnest hope that many persons who read this paper and who have not been punctual in their church attendance in the past, remedied the fault Sunday and made their influence felt on the right side by occupying places in places of worship. For ourselves, we have no choice as to where they want, so long as they broke off from slothful habits and did actually attend worship. It is the boast of us who reside in New England that we are a cool and a reasonable race, that we do nothing hastily, and that our conduct is governed by what appears to be right to no foundation outside of our imaginations? Surely, we cannot claim such to be the case.

Think the matter over to-day. Do not let the hope of reward in the hereafter nor the fear of future punishment alter your minds by the breadth of a hair. If you receive a reward, well and good. If you are punished you will try to stand it. Get out of these selfish ruts and look at the question in an impersonal light. Think of what others are doing on the Sabbath, and ask if they are not better off from observing a day which has been set apart for worship. Get right down

Why People Are Poor.

Their ideas are larger than their purses.

They think "the world owes them a living."

They do not keep an account of their expenditures.

They are easy dupes of schemers and promoters.

They reverse the maxim, "Duty before pleasure."

They have too many and too expensive amusements.

They do not think it worth while to save nickels and dimes.

They have risked an assured competence in trying to get rich quickly.

They allow friends to impose upon their good nature and generosity.

They try to do what others expect of them, not what they can afford.

The parents are economical, but the children have extravagant ideas.

They do not do to-day what they can possibly put off until tomorrow.

They do not think it worth while to put contracts or agreements in writing.

They prefer to incur debt rather than to do work which they considered beneath them.

They do not dream that little mortgaged on their homes can ever turn them out of doors.

They have indorsed their friends' notes or guaranteed payment just "for accommodation."

They risk all their eggs in one basket when they are not in a position to watch or control it.

This is Old Home week—and so is every week in Maine's summer.

Why They Read

The Advertiser.

A Voice from The Spruces, Indian Vale, Smith's, Mass., July 27, 1904.

MR. F. W. SANBORN, Norway, Me.

MY DEAR SIR:—Replying to your inquiry as to why the ADVERTISER is of interest to me, would state that, notwithstanding my home is now and has been abundantly supplied with daily and weekly papers, yet among them all none do I read with greater interest than the ADVERTISER and for the following reasons, viz.: Away back before the '70's I was a frequent visitor among your much esteemed and hospitable people, also the lovely hills, streams, lakes and grand old mountains, unsurpassed in beauty, some of which to me even rivalled the splendor of Alpine scenery.

It was in those days ago among your people that I formed acquaintances, congenial and of sterling worth; some have passed to the great beyond, names, no doubt familiar to the many readers of the ADVERTISER as that grand old man, uncle Jerry Howe, Jacob Howe, his wife, aunt Polly, Abel Stetson, that thoroughly good honest man, West Sumner people; these and scores of others some living scattered o'er hill and dale, names equally dear to me.

To-day in the columns of the ADVERTISER I read a record of transpiring events in the various towns scattered all the way along as far as Andover, Byron and the Rangeley lakes. Those items form an interesting chapter and keep me in touch with many dear friends and the scenes of by gone days, and it is this that makes your paper, the ADVERTISER, valuable to me and doubly welcome to my beautiful home here in this, your sister state. Very truly,

H. W. SMITH.

All Maine Born People.

Mrs. C. H. Perry, Chestspring, Cambria Co., Pa., says:—Lovel is the birthplace of my father and mother, J. B. Warren and wife (Mary Ann Kimball) also my own.

We came to Pennsylvania when I was very young, yet my heart still clings to the dear old place. Late years I have visited Lovell, Bethel and Norway where I have some very dear relatives, who always give me a hearty welcome.

The ADVERTISER keeps them also my birthplace very near to me. I hear from them more frequently than I otherwise would.

My husband's father, James Perry, brother of Eben N. Perry of Portland, was born in Porter, my husband in Biddeford so you see we are all Maine people, therefore are interested in Maine news.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bell, Flandreau, S. D., say:—The ADVERTISER is not only one of the best and newest of papers free from political jangles, but is from our own state. We were born in South Watford nearly 50 years ago and lived there until 25 years ago when we took Greeley's advice and came west. This a thriving country bound to succeed in everything it takes up.

There have been many changes in the time we have been away but we look for our paper and if we lose one feel lost without it for a week. Any news from the towns of Watford, Albany, Sweden, Harrison, Bridgton, etc., are of interest to us.

The only way you could improve for us would be to get more news from our town as all the old places and people are fresh in our minds.

News for a Portion of Two States.

E. L. Tuell, Watertown, Mass., formerly of West Sumner, writes:—I have been asked of what interest your paper is to me and if I were to try and tell all the many things that interest me it would take too much of your time to read but will speak of a few things. The first and most important to an Oxford county man living out of the state are the local items of which the ADVERTISER is so well supplied.

There are so many familiar names as I read that it seems almost like a letter from home. Then it is well interspersed with home advertisements which goes to show that the business men of Oxford county are alive to the fact that it pays to advertise.

It gives court news, short, spicy anecdotes, weddings and engagements held in the immediate vicinity all of which are interesting to me and my family.

We read of the good that men do, now let us see how much good one Norway ADVERTISER does. I receive the paper in Watertown, Mass., Friday morning. The following Sunday I mail it to my father at West Sumner, Maine. So you see one paper gives the Oxford County news to a very small portion of two states. The plain, easy reading style of the print is one of the many reasons of its being so welcome at the "old home."

Things that could be improved upon but I do not feel competent to make any suggestions in that line. Therefore I wish you to understand that I consider the ADVERTISER an interesting, up-to-date country newspaper.

Wants List of Revolutionary Soldiers.

R. A. Martin, 15 Beacon Place, Chelsea, Mass., says:—I take your paper because it brings me news of my boyhood's home. I am a native of Rumford Point, and the ancestors of both my father and mother were among the first settlers of the town. I would suggest this:—If you can print a list of the soldiers who served in the War of the Revolution and who lived and died in the county of Oxford, it would be pleasing and might be considerable assistance to their descendants, who are looking up family history.

The Money Is Acceptable to Us.

C. L. Plummer, Idaho Springs, Colorado, says:—Yours of the 18th received. In reply would say that I was a resident of Oxford County for many years and by having the ADVERTISER every week I get news from people that I used to know from all over the county. I receive the paper every Monday morning. Enclosed please find P. O. order for $1.50, which I think will be better for you than any suggestions I could make to you about running your paper.

A. P. Robertson, Bigelow, Me., says: You asked why I took the ADVERTISER. My wife and I were both born on Bethel Hill and have lived there, and at West Bethel, and we have worked both in Norway and South Paris. We have been here most four years and the paper is like getting a letter from home.

Mrs. Sarah A. Jillean, Greene, Me., says:—Will say in reply to why I take the ADVERTISER is because I used to live in Otisfield. My father, D. L. Brett of Otisfield Gore, always took the ADVERTISER and when I moved to Greene I wanted it as it seems just like a letter, for I have lots of friends in Norway and Otisfield.

The Paper All Right.

Millie Daves, Southport, Conn., says:—Ist, I am the only person in this home that reads your paper. The family I am working for are not acquainted with it.

2nd, I have lived in Otisfield, Harrison and Oxford. I was brought up in East Otisfield, so am surely interested in reading your paper.

3rd, I certainly cannot make any suggestion for the betterment of the paper. It is all right.

P. S. After reading the paper I send it to a friend of mine who lives in Riverville, She formerly resided in Bolster's Mills, Harrison and Bridgton.

A. W. Fox, Chicago Junction, Ohio, says:—I take the ADVERTISER because Norway was my home. My brother lives on Alpine street and other relatives reside in Lovell. I hear of items through the ADVERTISER which they don't think to write.

Fidella V. Lade, Fort McKinley, Portland, says:—My home was in Norway up to three years ago. I look forward with interest to the coming of the paper. It contains news from home.

Mrs. Eunice Perry Tuck, 81 years of age and born in Plymouth, Ill., last visited Norway in 1850.

I was born in Casco in 1823. My father, Joshua Perry, was a chobline in Casco where he spent most of his life. His family consisted of eight children only two living. I have a sister Mrs. Howe in Lovell and one brother, J. W. Perry in Sweden.

I was married in 1843, moved to Lynn, and lived there until I came west. I lived in Norway before my marriage. I was a dressmaker and boarded at Asa Thayer's. My old friends whom I knew then are all dead, but I often see in your paper mention of some of their children or grandchildren. My most intimate friends while there were Frank H. Whitman and at Eng. Whitney's. I had an aunt and uncle living there, Mr. and Mrs. Twombly, now deceased.

I visited Norway the last time in 1850 and nothing would give me more pleasure than to see the old familiar places again. I came to Plymouth, Ill., in 1855. It was then almost a wilderness, now a prosperous village of 1500 people.

I have eight living children. Three sons are in the boot and shoe business, one son a practicing physician here in Plymouth and two sons are farmers. My two daughters are married, one lives on the farm three miles from the town, the other lives in Montana.

It has been so many years since I lived in the east that I have forgotten the names of many friends whom I once knew. I enjoy reading in your paper, the weather and crop conditions of that section when such news is reported.

When I lived in Norway the editor was Mr. Plummer. I derive much pleasure from your paper and think it is all right.

Joseph H. Porter, Oshkosh, Wis., says:—I am taking the paper because I am a native of Paris, Me., and have many relatives in that vicinity. The local notes of the paper give me what information I want in regard to the local news and there are frequently items about some of the older residents whom I know. The paper answers the purpose for which I take it very well and I have no suggestion to make in regard to its improvement.

H. L. Pingree, Keeper of Boston Light, Boston Harbor, Mass., says:—I passed my boyhood in Norway and later lived there with my family ten years. The paper keeps me informed of relatives, neighbors and acquaintances. Although it is more than 18 years since I left Norway, I think I know how things appear in town and the most of the knowledge is gathered from the ADVERTISER.

Friday evening of last week, about 10 o'clock, L. L. McKenney, traveling salesman for a Portland house was held up near the new bridge in Peru and lost $1200 in cash. It was a very dark night, and he was driving in a team, slowly. Just after crossing the bridge the horse stopped, and as Mr. McKenney looked to the cause, he was followed by another, some one, this blow followed by another, rendering him unconscious. As soon as he was able, he notified the officers, but no clue has been discovered. The loss was entirely cash, his personal checks and watch not being taken.

A very successful fair was given last Thursday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Universalist church, netting about $130. An entertainment will be given in the near future for the same purpose.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gehring there was recently held a pleasing entertainment for the benefit of the Ladies' club. There was music, including selections by Miss Burton of New York, accompanied by Miss Belknap of Louisville, Ky.; a lecture on "Emerson as an American," by Dr. D. S. Miller of Harvard University, and readings by Mr. George Brown, principal of the Brown and Nichols school of Cambridge, Mass., all of whom are guests at the debating home. There was an hour of social chat and a pleasant evening was passed by all. No admission was asked, but some $20 was voluntarily given for the use of the club.

Thursday morning about 9 o'clock Fred A. Robinson shot himself through the head with a revolver at Hotel Atwood in Lewiston. A letter addressed to A. E. Cole of Buckfield gave as reason despondency. He was about 47 or 48 years of age, was a native of Sumner. He was in the hotel business for the larger portion of his life. For several years and up to the time of his wife's death about two years ago was proprietor of Hotel Long in Buckfield. More recently he was proprietor of the Rockingham in Lewiston, and subsequently clerk in Bryant's Pond. He was a member of Nevinson Lodge, a Good Faith Rebekah Lodge of Buckfield, and Dixfield Encampment, I. O. O. F., and was insured in the Relief Association. He leaves a son about two years of age.

The First Eyeglasses.

Snakes may almost be said to have glass eyes, inasmuch as their eyes never close. They are without lids and each is covered with a transparent scale, much resembling glass. When the reptile casts its outer skin, the eye scales come off with the rest of the transparent envelope out of which the snake slips. This glassy eye scale is so tough that it actually protects the true eye from the twigs, sharp grass and other obstructions which the snake encounters in its travels, yet it is transparent enough to allow the most perfect vision. Thus, if the snake has not a glass eye, it may, at any rate, be said to wear eyeglasses.

AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY!

To secure a home near permanent employment.

TINKER BROOK PARK

Located in Gorham, N. H., has recently been opened for the sale of house lots. This territory is within five minutes walk of the Mammoth Mills of the Berlin Mills Co., where hundreds of men are employed, and combines all the advantages of the suburban home with nearness to place of employment. The location is on high ground with good drainage, shade trees, wide streets, and one of the grandest views of the White Mountains obtained in Northern New Hampshire. The recent addition of new property has lowered the rate of taxation in the town of Gorham, this alone making a difference of $100 or more each year in the value of each house and lot.

Price of Lots $75 and up.

This can be paid in monthly installments of $5.

NO TAXES UNTIL PAID FOR.

Very ill with Pneumonia. Melville B. Morey, who has been working at Bolster's Mills, came home last week apparently quite ill of jaundice and stomach trouble, which soon terminated in pneumonia. Sunday, the doctor expressed but little hope of his recovery and brought a trained nurse from Norway, Mina Jewett. He is much better at the time of this writing but not out of danger.

A new meat cart came to town, Tuesday.

Irving Stanley and wife are moving to Lovell.

Perley Bean is quite sick of stomach and bowel trouble.

The plains have been well patronized by blueberry pickers but they are getting scarce.

Mark Tapley goes out most every day and has been to the extent of the farm with no discomfort except a little tire.

SOUTH ALBANY.

Reunion at Pine Lodge. Saturday, Aug. 6, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sawin of Norway, and the McIntires of East Waterford, entertained a party of visiting friends at their cottage on the shores of Pappoose pond. The morning dawned wet and foggy, with frequent showers, but not heeding the rain many of the expected guests arrived at Pine Lodge. The dinner tables were placed on the wide veranda, from which, through the tall pines that shade the Lodge, can be seen a lovely view of the pretty lake, which rejoices in the poetic name of Pappoose pond.

Thirty-two friends and relatives gathered at the dinner tables which groined beneath the weight of dainties that were prepared by the housewives of the clan, who know so well how to bake, boil and brew the good things with which to tickle our palates. The bill of fare was a variety of delicious foods too numerous to mention, but sufficient to say here that the groaning was speedily transferred to the eaters. After dinner, the tables were cleared, and the veranda filled with easy chairs and seats for the elders of the party, who had a social chat, while the younger ones took up their time rowing on the lake, swinging in the hammocks, fishing, etc., until the parting hour came, all too soon.

Nearly a year ago a larger party of the same family, met at the Lodge and although the Death messenger has entered a few of the families represented at that time, August 23, 1903, and borne away a loved one, not one of those who were present has been called beyond. When the roll is called another year may we all answer, here.

Mrs. Mary Robbins of Connecticut was the guest of honor of the family for the day. Aunt Mary, as she is called by so many of her friends, was born and lived for her husband, William Robbins, and son, William Robbins, Jr., went to Connecticut to make her home, leaving behind only sorrow and regret at her loss, and taking with her the love and respect of all those who knew her best. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins have made periodical visits to their old home, and a few years ago Mr. Robbins passed away, and Mrs. Robbins is kindly cared for by her son William, Jr., at her home in Connecticut.

Other guests from away were Mrs. Geo. Wood of Connecticut, Mrs. Maria W. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes, Massachusetts. Those present were: Mrs. Mary Robbins, Mrs. Lydia Sawin, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sawin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sawin, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Horr, Mary E. Horr, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Sawin, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. McIntire, Carroll McIntire, Glenn McIntire, Cathlyn McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holt, Arthur Holt, Mrs. George Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barnes and Frances Stevens. And so has passed another reunion of the surviving descendants of a large family. May there be many more.

ONE OF THE CLASS.

Mrs. Isaac Flint is somewhat improved in health.

Henry Chaplin of Sandy Creek was at George Abbott's last Sunday.

William Caldwell and sister of Oxford recently visited at P. P. Dresser's.

A party went to Albany Basins last Saturday from here, for a hayrack ride. Corn and other crops which have been rather backward, are being pushed ahead quite rapidly by the recent rains.

Report says there will soon be great doings at the pond near here. Hope all success to the undertaking, but what is to become of the fish and water snakes? There have been told of snakes coiled up as big as a butter basket, with heads like a rattlesnake, that have been seen in that pond. Fish story, eh?

UPTON.

Silas Peaselee is building a piazza.

Mr. Evans of South Paris is in town.

Mrs. Addie Virgin is visiting relatives in town.

Will Sargent has sold his stand to Charles Brown.

Fred Lombard has gone to the hospital at Lewiston for treatment.

Mrs. Bennett Morse, who has been at Magalloway caring for her daughter, Mrs. York, has returned home.

HOLDEN REUNION.

ON WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1904, At the old home site, Crooked river, will be held the annual reunion of the descendants of the late David Ray and Louisa (Lovejoy) Holden. Basket picnic. If stormy, then the next fair day.

GEORGE H. JONES, Oxford, would like to say to the people that he is now prepared to furnish ICE CREAM 3c 36¢ for suppers and entertainments. The ice cream is made of Pure Cream and is for sale at his Drug Store.

Mr. Benson is taking care of Mr. Chase and doing the housework. Mrs. Diantha Edwards is there at present.

V. H. Storer, Chas. Leighton and James Russell were here several days last week getting the corn shop ready for a fall run.

Mary Plummer and Mary Milliken returned to Portland, last Thursday, taking Mrs. Estelle O. Ford and Ethel Ford with them for a much needed rest of about ten days.

K. G. Berham of Mexico was in town last week visiting friends.

The Mitchell family and friends are occupying Mr. Stephens' new cottage.

Edward F. Blake has moved to West Bethel, where he has charge of a section.

Mrs. Ella Cummings and daughter of Dorchester, Mass., are visiting at Dell Cole's.

The number of visitors coming here this year will exceed that of any other season.

R. N. Pinckney and S. T. Damon of New York City are at Camp Christopher for two weeks.

Mrs. E. N. Hobson and son and Mrs. H. Shoomaker of Patterson, N. J., are at the Glen Mt. House.

G. A. England of Boston has purchased a lot near the E. Cole property and will build a summer cottage at once.

Cornelius Rogers and wife of Portland were in town over Sunday, stopping with Mrs. Lizette Meader. Mr. Rogers has sold his place here to M. M. Hathaway, who will take possession at once.

Rev. Charles A. Hayden of Augusta will preach at the Universalist church, Aug. 21st and 28th. The annual general meeting of the society will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 17th. A number of prominent speakers will be in attendance.

Albert Davis has been working for H. C. Bacon, the past week.

S. L. Russ is reported as having been quite sick and under the doctor's care, last week.

M. M. Hathaway has moved his family to the Rogers place which he purchased last week.

Mrs. Vesta Bessey returned from Har-bridge, Sunday. She has been there with her brother, Rev. Eugene Whitman since last spring.

Mr. Storer of Poland has been in town overhauling things at the cornshop. It is expected that quite a business will be done there this fall.

Prof. Wiske's new cottage is up and mostly boarded in. It is located on a pretty point near Wm. Day's and will present a very pretty appearance from the road when completed.

The young ladies of Franklin Grange took charge of the meeting, Saturday. Edith Cushman acting as Master. Aug. 15, there is to be an all-day meeting and dinner, and some of the State officers are expected to be present.

ANDOVER.

Many visitors were in town to the centennial.

Mrs. Geo. Fox of Dorchester and two children have arrived at E. S. Poore's.

Rev. G. B. Hannaford preached at the Methodist church, Aug. 7, at 2.30 p. m.

Mrs. Abby Poore and a party spent a few days at Rocky Point camp, Roxbury Pond.

Mrs. Bessey of Rumford Falls is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown of Providence, R. I., have arrived at Ingalls Bragg's.

Mrs. M. E. Pratt has arrived from her visit to Lisbon Falls. Mrs. Helen Gregg is visiting her daughter at Rumford Falls. While riding she was thrown from the carriage, breaking several ribs.
